SCROFULA,
Scrofulous Humor.
VEGETINE will eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humor. It has permanently cured thousands in Boston and vicinity who had been long and painful sufferers.

Cancer, Cancerous Humor.
The marvelous effect of VEGETINE in case of Cancer and Cancerous Humor challenges the most profound attention of the medical faculty, many of whom are prescribing VEGETINE to their patients.

Canker.
VEGETINE has never failed to cure the most intractable case of Canker.

Mercurial Diseases.
The VEGETINE meets with wonderful success in the cure of this class of diseases.

Pain in the Bones.
In this complaint the VEGETINE is the great remedy, as it removes from the system the producing cause.

Erysipelas.
VEGETINE has never failed to cure the most inveterate case of Erysipelas.

Pimples and Humors of the Face.
Reason should teach us that a blotchy, rough or pimpled skin depends entirely upon an internal cause and no outward application can ever cure the defect. VEGETINE is the great blood purifier.

Tumors, Ulcers or old Sores
Are caused by an impure state of the blood. Cleanse the Blood thoroughly with VEGETINE, and these complaints will disappear.

Catarrh.
For this complaint the only substantial benefit can be obtained through the blood. VEGETINE is the great blood purifier.

Constipation.
VEGETINE does not act as a cathartic to debilitate the bowels, but cleanses all the organs, enabling each to perform the functions devolving upon them.

Piles.
VEGETINE has restored thousands to health who have been long and painful sufferers.

Dyspepsia.
If VEGETINE is taken regularly, according to directions, a certain and speedy cure will follow its use.

Faintness at the Stomach.
VEGETINE is not a stimulating bitters which creates a fictitious appetite, but a gentle tonic, which assists nature to restore the stomach to a healthy action.

Female Weakness.
VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs and allays inflammation.

General Debility.
In this complaint the good effects of the VEGETINE are realized immediately after commencing to take it; as debility denotes deficiency of the blood, and VEGETINE acts directly upon the blood.

BUSINESS TRAINING.

THE NECESSITY OF TRAINING FOR ALL DEPARTMENTS OF LIFE.—ITS SUPERIORITY TO NATURAL ABILITY.—IT IS MOST OFTEN UNDER-RATED BY BUSINESS MEN.

We had occasion, a few weeks ago, to refer in our columns to the subject of business training. The theme is, of course, too broad to be thoroughly discussed in this place, but it is too important to be lightly passed over, and may be referred to again without need of apology.

The necessity of a special training, both in business routine and in business connections, was before urged and briefly illustrated. We wish now to speak of it as it stands related to business success and business failure. The idea is prevalent, especially among the unfortunate class of business men, that success is largely a matter of luck; or in other words, that it is owing to a fortuitous combination of circumstances over which the man himself has had little control. The idea is well enough so long as it is used as a grain of comfort to the hearts of the distressed, with whom the business world has little more to do; but beyond that it is absolutely untrue, and those who hold it, totally misconceive the true elements of success.

Success is an achievement—something which comes by a constant and persistent effort put forth in the direction in which a man can do his best. Fortune may pour her treasures into the lap of one who sits quietly to receive them, but the glitter of the gold signifies nothing, success means to conquer, not to shine. The trouble is, men look too soon to the goal, and enter upon the race so eagerly as to forget the necessary training for it. It is well to be taught "to be up and doing," but it is full as important to prepare to do. The reward and the glory are of course in the doing, and men go ahead and do with every degree of unfitness, trusting to luck and a kind Providence to carry them through. But the long, wearisome, and inglorious road of preparation, must always be passed over, or the actor will certainly fail in the achievement.

The race on Saratoga Lake last Summer was no doubt a thrilling sight, and in those few excited moments, there were no doubt hundreds of young men looking on who thought that they had nerve enough and strength enough to pull with the best over the course; but what could they have done by the side of those trained men who had spent months in preparation for this fifteen minutes work?

Training goes farther than natural ability, and accomplishes more. A man need not be over "smart," as the phrase is, to get along in this world. The majority of the human race, as a matter of fact, are not at all brilliant; but take any one from the common, average lot, and prepare him thoroughly for what he has to do—let him be ready for each particular blow which is to be struck, and know where and when to direct it, and his whole strength, though it be not much, tells in the result, and that result, is embodied in a life of usefulness and success.

It is not enough to think one's self strong and able: a man must feel himself strong to achieve success; and this feeling only comes through the labor and study of preparation. The excited and unexperienced combatant dares to fight and hopes to win; but the trained athlete feels his power in every tendon and fibre, and sends his gathered strength into every crushing blow, which he aims with precision and delivers with judgment.

The value of preparation is by no class of men, perhaps, so little understood as by business men. Perhaps one reason is, that it is so difficult to define exactly in what consists a business education: and that which cannot be found in books, but must be picked up through years of practical experience, is apt to show a meagre gathering, and to be measured by conceit. Preparation for a business life needs to be thorough, complete, and all-embracing; so that, as time moves on and brings with it the few great opportunities which come in every man's life, there may be a ready hand and brain to do, the swift, decisive word, which carries the man forward and upward. That step forward at the opportune moment, is all the more easy to the prepared man, because the world is filled with weakness and incompetency. At the unexpected crisis, be it great or small, the hundreds who hesitate, follow instinctively the one who knows and is prompt to act.

A study of the faces of that great human tide which daily sweeps in and out the lower part of this city, is all that is needed to show what lack of training is accomplishing. Young men, prematurely grave and careworn from being thrust into positions of heavy responsibility, are expending daily their nervous force, and exhausting themselves in misdirected efforts, so that when the period does arrive of what should be the fullest and ripest manhood, they find their reserve force spent, and their youthful enthusiasm gone. The wearied, haggard faces of middle life only show still more plainly how many have grappled unprepared with the work before them, and having lost courage through repeated failures, have settled down finally into a hopeless imbecility.

To husband one's strength, physical as well as mental, expending it on no unworthy objects, so that the enthusiasm of youthful efforts can work with the judgment of mature manhood, is the wise economy of life.—[N. Y. Shipping List.

SOCIETY NOT WANTED.—John Randolph boarded in Georgetown while a member of Congress, and generally rode over to the Capitol, though sometimes he walked. On a keen frosty morning he was walking over to the House, and soon after he crossed Rock creek bridge, he was spied by Mr. B., who was walking on the opposite side of the street, in the same direction. Mr. B. had a speaking acquaintance with Randolph, and seeing him across the street, thought it a good time to improve it, and so crossed over to walk with him. Now, Randolph had very long legs, and was, even in his ordinary gait, a very fast walker. With some difficulty Mr. B. came up with Mr. Randolph and saluted him with "Good morning, Mr. Randolph; you are walking fast this morning." "Yes, sir," squeaked Randolph. "and I can walk still faster," and thereupon Mr. Randolph increased his long stride, and Mr. B. was soon left to pursue his way alone.

UNIVERSITY LIFE IN ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND.—The London correspondent of the Nation draws an interesting contrast between the social coloring and surroundings of university life in England and Scotland. There is not a wider difference between the fortunes of a drawing-room poodle and a rat-catcher's bull-pup than there is between those of the smart Oxford or Cambridge undergraduate, in his jaunty cap and gown, and the lank Scottish student, in his red-flannel cloak. University life at a Scottish university is an unkempt, hungry episode, where it is all work and no play, and, in a majority of cases, barely enough money to support existence. In England, an Oxford freshman comes up from Eton and Harrow, where he had a snug little study of his own luxuriously fitted up and enters rooms still more gorgeously furnished. He keeps a couple of hunters and a pack, and goes out three times a week with the hounds, when he ought to be at chapel and lectures. He has his man to wait on him, and such times as he can spare from his wine parties, and his late suppers, and his whist, he gives up to the study of aesthetics, or athletics, or if he contemplates a Parliamentary career, to the celebration of public speaking. His vacations he spends in Switzerland, or in Paris, or perhaps he will go grouse-shooting or salmon-fishing in Scotland. The student at the Scottish university, on the other hand, is, not unlikely, the eldest of eleven brothers and sisters whose father is a shepherd with £20 a year wages. By dint of great sacrifices his parents have managed to send him to school and from thence to the university. There he lodges with another student in a garret furnished with a single bed, a small table and a stool. His whole expenses are not more than £25 a year, and this he earns in his vacations by teaching. Out of the 882 students who attended the leading Scottish universities in a single year, two-thirds of them were the sons of poor parents. This is a striking testimony to the cosmopolitan character of the Scottish universities and goes some way to explain the fact that in Scotland there is one university student to every 1000 of the population, while in England there is only one to every 5800 and in Germany one to 9600.

FACTS THAT SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD.—The manager of a newspaper is entitled to his judgment as to what enterprises are really charitable and judicious. He is entitled to regard the columns of reading matter under his control as valuable for the information of the public, and, so far as he can make them so, sacred from intrusion, even under pretense of pure benevolence. He has large expenses, and has a right to look on his advertising columns as sources of revenue not to be abated at the suggestion that it is done in the name of charity and good will to mankind. And the manager of a newspaper has a right to regard himself as engaged in a legitimate private business. He is not necessarily a public character, and is as clearly entitled to his privacy, and the exclusive conduct of his own business, as the keeper of a grocery or drug store. If he is prosperous it is reasonable to expect him to be charitable; but he must claim the privilege of discriminating in his charities as other persons do, and of doing his share of the work of good will to men in his way. He will probably prefer to pay his subscriptions in aid of charitable enterprises in cash, and to demand for the advertising that is done for these enterprises the regular rates, and if he understands editing his newspaper, he will resist the tendency to ruin his local department with stupid notices that belong among advertisements. It may be well to say that we mean these observations especially for a number of worthy people in this city, who have misunderstood, as we think, the relations of a newspaper to society.

THE DAY.

The Rev. Mr. Burnham's new church was dedicated at Fall River last evening.

United States Marshals Carroll of Connecticut and Maxwell of Utah are charged with defrauding the government.

Bishop Simpson says he has never expressed an opinion on the subject of a third term for the Presidency.

The Methodist ministers of Washington have passed a resolution condemning Bishop Haven's Boston speech nominating President Grant for a third term.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Anthony presented a memorial from the yearly meeting of Friends asking that international disputes be settled by arbitration. It is signed by 2325 members of the society.

Not content with a whiskey ring, and a suspected tobacco ring Missouri has just developed a stupendous land swindle, involving 12,000,000 acres of land and $25,000,000 or $30,000,000. Forged deeds have been sold all over the United States and in England. Three men have been indicted for complicity.

Gen. Schenck with his Emma mines and Wiard-Machado claims for regular business and poker for recreation so disgusts the New York Nation that it argues in favor of the abolition of the permanent diplomatic corps. Communication by steam and telegraph is now so rapid that the Secretary of State can be appealed to at all times, and there is not the same need of permanent ambassadors and envoys that there was fifty or a hundred years ago. Ordinary business, the Nation says, can be done through consuls, and for extraordinary business a special envoy may be sent.

Mr. Nicholas Ball has received a letter from the assistant signal officer saying that he had been directed by the chief signal officer to say that he regarded Block Island as a location "which would doubtless prove of particular value as a signal station to both the shipping interests and the signal service." The only obstacle is the expense. Ten miles of cable at $1000 a mile, and twelve miles of wire at $100 to $150 a mile would be required. Mr. Ball has also received a letter from the secretary of the New York chamber of commerce announcing that the petition for a signal station at Block Island had been unanimously approved by the chamber, and been signed not only by its president, but by the presidents of all the marine insurance companies in the city and by the leading shipping merchants engaged in the eastern trade.

Carl Schurz was interviewed on Saturday by a New York Tribune reporter. In regard to the whiskey ring trials he said it was not true that he had anything to do with Henderson's recent attack upon the President. He hadn't seen Henderson for a year, and the idea that he and Henderson had concocted any attack on the President was ridiculous for Henderson had always been a Republican and had been a candidate for office on the administration ticket since Schurz's defection. The ex-Senator said that when Grant in future years reviewed his Presidential career he would admit that many men had given him worse advice than Carl Schurz had. For instance, Mr. Schurz personally advised the President against the Santo Domingo scheme, among other reasons because it would increase the Catholic influence, and now the President is trying to make anti-Catholic capital. Again, when Gen. McDonald was nominated for supervisor it was done against the written advice of Carl Schurz, his colleague, Senator Drake, the district attorney and the member of Congress from St. Louis, and others. But the President insisted upon gratifying his personal liking for McDonald. Mr. Schurz said he hadn't the slightest idea that the President had any connection with the whiskey ring, but unfortunately he had a great many rascally friends, and he stuck to them until they were actually convicted and in the penitentiary.

PERSONALS.

......It is believed that General Banks will be chairman of the committee on military affairs.

......The new clerk of the Democratic House of Representatives is one of the old salary grabbers.

......B. D. Allen of Worcester, Mass., has been appointed professor of harmony, musical theory, musical literature and criticism in the Boston University.

......Mr. Kerr made his canvass in a parlor, attended by his agreeable wife and his son, a bright young man. It was a simple reception, carried on for a week. Not a drop of liquor, no dark "inside rooms."

......The Jewish Messenger says Baron Edward de Rothschild is expected to be among the visitors at the Centennial, and he will undoubtedly be in great demand. During one of the fairs in Paris, some years ago, Baron James de Rothschild was a patron. Chancing to pass a stand where some pretty young ladies were installed, he asked, in a bantering tone, "Well, my dears, what can I do for you?" "Ah, baron," said one, "you can give us your autograph." "With pleasure," responded the gallant old baron, "if you will preface it with an agreeable sentiment." So the young lady, without much ado, wrote on a dainty slip of paper, "I hereby donate to ——— charity ten thousand francs," and the baron immediately signed his name in full, and smilingly paid the amount to the enterprising Parisian.

......The Mr. Broadhead who is selected in Mr. Henderson's place is the man to whom the late Frank Blair wrote his famous "Broadhead letter" in 1872. He is not likely to let off any Republican very easily if he can help it.

STATE MISCELLANY.

The harness store of Cyrus M. Baker, in Providence was entered on Friday night, and robbed of goods valued at $475.

A four-year-old son of Patrick Ryan died at Providence on Friday from injuries received the day before, by falling into a tub of hot water.

They raise fine hogs on the town farm at Wakefield. Five killed a few days ago, weighed respectively 428, 460, 477, 483 and 500 pounds.

The Pawcatuck river channel has been broken out by a tug boat, and the outward bound vessels liberated, and several coal laden vessels arrived up.

The Washburn & Moen Manufacturing Company of Worcester, have adopted Eames Vapor fuel process, made in Woonsocket, which is likely to create something of a revolution for heating purposes.

The workmen at Mead's foundry in Providence, being disappointed at the non-payment of their wages, made criminals of themselves on Tuesday night by breaking in the windows and generally smashing things at the foundry.

The Providence Yacht Club was organized Friday evening, with about a dozen members. Harvey Flint was elected commodore and Charles Handy, vice commodore. The organization will doubtless have a fine fleet on the Bay next season.

The Rev. Darius Brewer preached at White Rock, Sunday, at 3 o'clock. It is the intention to have preaching every Sunday afternoon, the pastors of Westerly volunteering to preach alternately. Six candidates were added to the Methodist church Sunday, and one at the First Baptist.

A monument to the Rev. Dr. George T. Day, late editor of the Dover (N. H.) Morning Star, and a leading preacher of the Free Baptist denomination, erected in Pocasset cemetery, Cranston, was dedicated last week. A dedicatory address was delivered by the Rev. J. M. Brewster. Other addresses were made by the Rev. J. L. Phillips, of India; the Rev. A. H. Heath, the Rev. David Boyd, G. F. Mosier, of Dover, N. H., and others.

John Fitzpatrick, a young man aged twenty one, was killed in a very sudden and painful manner at the Corliss Steam Engine Company's Works, Providence, at three o'clock Thursday afternoon. Fitzpatrick had placed a piece of sacking over the steam gauge of the engine in the boiler shop to prevent its being soiled with paint, which was being applied to the rest of the engine, and when the painting was finished, took it off and threw it across the passage way, so that it fell into a pit about five feet deep, in which is the shaft connecting the main engine, which was being used while the engine in the boiler shop was being repaired. He went down the steps to bring it up, when a sudden shriek announced to his fellow workmen that an accident had happened. The belt was taken off as soon as possible, but not until at least two minutes had passed, and it was found on going into the pit that the unfortunate man had been caught and killed. He was so entirely wound upon the shaft by his clothing that it had to be cut entirely to pieces, and on being taken out it was found that he had been killed by a blow upon the head. His feet were shockingly mangled and there was a severe wound in the back, but the wound in his head undoubtedly caused his death. The shaft was making about 120 revolutions per minute and the wonder is that he was not more lacerated.

Notice was ordered on the settlement of the annual account of Clark Estes, guardian of Mary A. Wilcox, at the next meeting of the court, January 3d, 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M. to which time the court adjourned.

The purchase of a wood lot for the town was completed Monday by the committee appointed for that purpose in the town meeting. The lot was purchased of Daniel B. Almy, of Portsmouth, R. I., for the sum of five hundred dollars, ($500) and as the lot adjoins the town farm, and is well wooded, the purchase may be considered a fortunate one for the town in every respect.

WICKFORD.

If Wickford can hold out against the ravages of time and other destroying elements for a few years longer, we predict an increase in population during the Summer season.

Already two houses are being built to be occupied next season, one south of the railroad, next to the Rice House, so called, which is owned by George B. Nichols, Esq., of Providence, formerly of this town. It is a square cottage, with French roof, very neatly arranged and tastily trimmed, and is an ornament to that part of our village. The other, which is being built by Charles Hunt, Esq., also of Providence, a member of the police force of that city, is situated at Cedar Spring, being next to the cottage of John Hull, Esq., and is a square cottage, with a French roof. Both houses will be ready for their occupants early in the Spring.

The Hon. Samuel Curry is failing slowly. His friends do not expect his recovery, although he may remain with us some time yet. May he recover, is our earnest wish.

Mr. William Congdon, our popular conductor, has quite an eye for the beautiful, as is shown in his interest in the new colt which he is training.

The ladies are working very hard in the interest of the Temple of Honor fair, which is to be held in the hall of Chapin's mill, on Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 31st and Jan. 1st, New Year's eve and New Year's night. This fair is to be held by the temperance ladies of Wickford and vicinity, for the benefit of the Temple of Honor, to aid them in their work of redeeming men and spreading temperance sentiments through the town, and in advancing the temperance reform in our state, a worthy object which should be well patronized.

Five converts were baptized at Lafayette, Thanksgiving day, and united with the Advent church.—[Pendulum.

CONCERT AT EMMANUEL CHURCH.—The concert given last night by the choir of the Emmanuel church was in every way a success. Four hundred persons were present, and the infant Sunday school room had to be opened to accommodate the audience. The singing was excellent and received the unqualified praise of every one present. The proceeds of the entertainment amounted to $100. For this profitable entertainment the society give all the credit to Miss Mary Howland who proposed it, conducted all the preparations for it, and insured its success.

DEATH OF MR. ASTOR'S GRANDDAUGHTER.—The death was announced yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Margaret Astor Chanler, wife of the Hon. John W. Chanler, of New York and this city (ex-member of Congress), in the thirty-eighth year of her age. She was the daughter of Mr. Sam Ward, by his first wife, a daughter of Mr. William B. Astor. She was a favorite grandchild of Mr. Astor, and shared his peculiar care and solicitude, both before and since her marriage with Mr. Chanler. She and her children were large participants in the special bequests of Mr. Astor, so lately deceased.

"HOPE I SHAN'T HEAR THAT CENT AGAIN!"—A Sunday school not a hundred miles from Newport was opened not a hundred Sundays ago with prayer by an elderly brother who looks after the eternal welfare of the smallest scholars and teaches the infant mind how to shoot in a spiritual direction. While engaged in prayer the brother in question was disturbed by the noisy efforts of his charges to solve the problem of specie resumption, or possibly they were pitching pennies for rewards of merit. At any rate our brother, whose petition to the throne of grace did not render him oblivious to earthly affairs, rebuked the uneasy infants in the midst of his prayer in the following original and impressive manner; "Oh! Lord our heavenly Father, I hope I sha'n't hear that cent again!" and then he went on with his prayer.

After the installation the brethren and their friends sat down to a bountiful turkey supper, prepared by John Ramsden, of Newport, and served in his usual excellent style. The brethren showed that they appreciated the feast that they had been called from labor to refreshment. After the supper vocal and instrumental music and dancing engaged the attention of the company.

Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather on Thursday evening, the Middletown Brass band gave a promenade concert at Oakland Hall. There was a large attendance.

BRISTOL.

Byefield Hall was filled to repletion on Friday afternoon; upwards of five hundred children were present, besides parents and other friends of temperance. Rev. Mr. Conant addressed the children in his usual familiar manner and was followed by Rev. Mr. Church. The members of the High School furnished the music and the venerable Dr. Sheppard offered the benediction.

The evening meeting was well attended. The first hour was spent in praise and song; Mr. S. B. Spinning presiding at the organ. Addresses were made by the Rev. Mr. Conant, Rev. A. J. Church, of Providence, and Rev. Mr. Burleigh, of Connecticut. The remarks were directed mainly against the license system as at present existing in this state. The meetings are increasing both in numbers and interest.

George H. Reynolds, Esq., auctioneer, sold at 12 o'clock Saturday the real estate of the late Seabury Mathewson, on Constitution and Wood streets. The attendance was large and the bidding quite spirited. The first parcel offered was a lot fronting on Constitution street, 57 feet by 100, which was struck off to Mr. William H. Clinton, for $527. The second lot on the corner, 250 feet on Constitution and 100 on Wood street, was bid off by Mr. Archibald Bell for $800. Two lots on Wood street, 46 by 113 feet, sold to John B. Pearce, one for $310 and one for $397. The homestead estate on the south side of Constitution street, consisting of a dwelling house and lot of land 36 by 109 feet, was sold to Mr. James C. Manchester for $1,020. A lot of land on the opposite side of the street sold at private sale for $1,000. This estate was valued by the assessors at $1,000, making a difference between the assessors' valuation and the actual sale of $2,700.

The temperance meetings are continued with increasing interest. A prayer and conference meeting was held in the morning and addresses in the afternoon. The attendance was large.

We understand that the sugar refiners in this place have discharged a portion of their help, contemplating a partial suspension of business shortly.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UTAH.

A Tammany Ring Unearthed.—Nefarious Conduct of a Marshal.

BEAVER, Utah, Dec. 13.

The report of the grand jury of the second district, presented Saturday evening, shows that out of upwards of $13,000 drawn by Marshal Maxwell to defray expenses of court, little or nothing has been paid out to show. Great complaints were made by witnesses and jurors all along about being compelled to attend court for nothing, and the marshal's accounts and vouchers represented as being paid in full. Maxwell will be indicted soon. There is no doubt of a Tammany ring of some magnitude existing in Utah. The Beaver Enterprise claims to have absolute proofs of perjury and forgery also, and indicates general corruption on a fearful scale.

TURKEY.

Recruiting the Army.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 14.

Morning.—The government has ordered a levy of 100,000 men, besides contributions from Egypt of 22,000 and Tunis of 8000. The government has informed the Suez Canal Company, that it considered the management of the canal as satisfactory, and has no intention to interfere.

ANOTHER OFFICIAL IN TROUBLE.

Marshal Carroll, of Connecticut, Charged with Defrauding the Government.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 12.

The Times Washington special says: "United States Marshal Carroll, of Connecticut is charged with defrauding the government by charging the government with witness fees in excess of the amount actually paid to the witnesses, and Attorney-General Pierrepont has sent the papers and referred the matter to Judge Shipman of Hartford for investigation.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The Night New York Mail Train Thrown from the Track at Westerly.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 13.

The westward mail train, having a baggage car and three passenger cars attached, was thrown off the track by a misplaced switch, two miles east of Westerly, last night. The train was running at the rate of forty miles an hour. On reaching Chapman's station the locomotive gave a wild leap and bounded between the two tracks. Instantly understanding the perilous situation Mr. Shay reversed his engine and applied the air brakes. The locomotive still sped onward ploughing up the ground, unearthing one side of the eastern bound track. This track, however, served as a strong barricade and prevented the engine from going across to the other side and down the embankment. The baggage car, two sleeping cars, and the trucks of the passenger car were also thrown from the track. Within the sleeping cars excitement ran high. The rear sleeping car did not leave the track, and the passengers were not awakened from slumbers by the accident. After leaving the track, the engine ran a distance of about 200 feet, where it buried itself almost completely in the sand. Mr. Shay heroically remained at his post, and by his cool and prompt judgment prevented a serious disaster. No person sustained the slightest injury, which, when the speed the train was running is taken into consideration, was a miraculous escape. The cause of the accident was evidently an attempt to wreck the train, as the bolt of the switch had been drawn and the switch changed by unknown persons. Among the passengers were Professor Richard A. Proctor, the astronomer, and William F. Gill of Boston, who were badly shaken up.

FALL RIVER.

Church Dedication

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 13.

The dedication of the new Central Congregational church of this city occurred this evening. About 2000 persons were present. The exercises commenced with the "Organ Voluntary," by Professor Lyman W. Deance, and Mozart's anthem, "Praise the Lord," was rendered by a large select choir. The invocation was by Rev. Mr. Wellman, of Malden, followed by Haydn's response, "Ponder my Words, O Lord." The Rev. W. W. Adams, of the First Congregational church of this city, read selections from the Scriptures, and the congregation joined in singing a hymn to the old tune of Lenox. The acoustics of the church prove satisfactory in all respects. The sermon by the Dr. R. S. Storrs, of Brooklyn, was founded on John, 17th chapter, 20th verse: "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word." The preacher closed by speaking of the need of churches, the duty of Christians to make them beautiful and pleasant, fit places for communing with the divine Saviour. He spoke highly of the cathedral plan, with its cript, transept, spire and Gothic arches, stained windows, etc., as testifying the historic associations that cluster around the memories of the Lord. He expressed a hope that this church will ever symbolize that union with Christ needed by believers. The exercises closed with singing another hymn by the congregation, a dedicatory prayer by the pastor, Rev. M. Burnham; an anthem, "How beautiful are Thy dwellings," by the choir; the doxology and benediction.

LIFE IN VENICE.—Charles Dudley Warner, writing from Venice to the Hartford Courant, says the Venetians turn the night into day. The theatres and concerts never begin till 9 o'clock in the evening, and are not out till 12; and, of course, supper (at the restaurant) won't be over before 1 or 2 o'clock. If you are invited to a regular weekly reception, and go at 11, you will find no one there except the hostess. Guests will begin to arrive at halfpast 11, most, however, do not come until 12, and tea will be served between 1 and 2. If it is a ball, you must not go before 12. The German will begin at 2 and end perhaps when the bronze figures on the clock tower in the piazza are striking seven, and the pigeons of St. Mark are beginning to look for early corn. The advantage of this is twofold. In the first place, you can go to bed early in the evening, get up at midnight and dress and go to the ball and be in a refreshed condition to enjoy it. In the second place, you can sleep all the next day, and as you have nothing whatever to do, in the garish daylight, this is a gain. Of course the Americans do everything that they undertake much better than any one else. If it is the adoption of a foreign fashion, they speedily leave the foreigners behind, their moderation under an eclipse. Thus, the fashionable colony of Americans in Florence puts the old conservatism of the city to the blush. If a leader of it gives a ball, it does not begin till next day. That is, the guests do not come till 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, and the German begins at 7 in the morning and ends towards night. Of course it is necessary to keep the windows boarded up against the daylight. It is this sort of thing that makes Americans so respected abroad.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

YOU HAVE NO EXCUSE.

Have you any excuse for suffering with dyspepsia or liver complaint? Is there any reason why you should go on from day to day complaining with Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c. No! It is positively your own fault if you do. Go to James H. Taylor's——and get a bottle of Green's August Flower for 75 cents. Your cure is certain, but if you doubt this, get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you.

The Evil Fruits of Weak Digestion.

There is no pathological fact more clearly ascertained than the most formidable phases of nervous disease are directly traceable to imperfect digestion. Insomnia, with its train of direful consequences, proceeds more frequently from weakness of the stomach than from any other cause. Mere sedatives are powerless to cure nervousness, and soon cease to palliate its symptoms. The true way to strengthen the nervous system is to invigorate the digestive and assimilative organs, upon whose unobstructed action its equilibrium is absolutely dependent. The daily use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will do more to brace and soothe the weakened and irritated nerves, and induce sound, refreshing sleep—nature's grand catholicon,—than all the so-called nervines to be found in the pharmacopoeia or out of it. A wine-glassful of the Bitters should be taken before each meal. dec8-n&l

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Will be found to possess those qualities necessary to the total eradication of all bilious attacks, prompt to start the secretions of the liver, and give a healthy tone to the entire system. Indeed, it is no ordinary discovery in medical science to have invented a remedy for these stubborn complaints, which develop all the results produced by a heretofore free use of calomel, a mineral justly dreaded by mankind, and acknowledged to be destructive in the extreme to the human system. That the properties of certain vegetables comprise all the virtues of calomel without its injurious tendencies, is now an admitted fact, rendered indisputable by scientific researches; and those who use the Mandrake Pills will be fully satisfied that the best medicines are those provided by nature in the common herbs and roots of the fields.

These pills open the bowels and correct all bilious derangements without salivation or any of the injurious effect of calomel or other poisons. The secretion of bile is promoted by these pills, as will be seen by the altered color of the stools, and disappearing of the sallow complexion and cleansing of the tongue.

Ample directions for use accompany each box of pills.

Prepared only by J. H. Schenck & Son, at their principal office, corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price 25 cents per box. dec6-1m Newport Daily News.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1875.

GENERAL NEWS

FROM NEW YORK.

THE FOSTER-BLAINE LETTER

What Mr. Foster Says About It.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.

In an interview with the Times reporter yesterday Mr. Foster, editor of a Newark paper, says he did write a letter, which was printed in an Augusta, Me., Democratic paper, but it must have been obtained by that paper in some questionable manner, as it was a personal letter addressed to James G. Blaine. The letter did not see it until it reached him in print from the papers of last Friday morning.

The Alleged Anti-Catholic Movement.

Mr. Foster explains that he wrote about the strength of the Anti-Catholic order from information and observation, but he based his remarks upon the result of the election in New Jersey, where the United American Mechanics carried the state against the Catholics. Mr. Foster also says: "After the election in New Jersey a prominent Washington official, a member of the national Republican committee, called upon me in Newark and told me the Order of United American Mechanics was growing with amazing rapidity all over the country: that in every state of the Union divisions of the order were established, and when the next Presidential convention and election came off I should be able to see for myself that the order would be perhaps a great directing power. He told me there were at least a score of Congressmen at Washington, and a great many public officials members of this order, and assured me that Gen. Grant himself was a deeply interested and active member. The same official was then on his way to New York to initiate Gen. Merritt into the order, and from this fact the statement was made in the letter by Foster that Mr. Blaine could be initiated by any one member. These statements combined with the subsequent action of the President in his Des Moines speech on the school question, led to the letter being written.

Mr. Blaine Knows Nothing of the Order.

In an interview with Mr. Blaine on Saturday, he said to Foster that the stealing of the letter was a mystery to him. Mr. Blaine denied to Foster having any previous knowledge of a secret anti-sectarian order in the United States, and his first intimation of such a thing came from Foster.

A Reported Interview Denied.

The purported interview with Foster, as it appeared in the Tribune on Saturday morning, and from which it could be inferred that Foster denied writing the letter to Blaine or desired to equivocate, was untrue, as he says no Tribune reporter had interviewed him.

NEW YORK LOCALS.

Talmage Threatened.

Rev. Mr. Talmage said in his sermon yesterday about the Bible in the public schools that several threatening letters had been sent to him, that his house had been set on fire and an attempt made to rob it, but he shall continue to preach against the removal of the Bible from the public schools.

Important Robbery.

A trunk containing valuable papers belonging to an official of Guatemala was stolen from one of Dodd's express wagons on Saturday night. The papers were claims of his government amounting to several million dollars, and when at the depot he discovered the loss of the trunk he swooned away. On being revived he offered $20,000 for their recovery. A boot black was found yesterday who saw three men steal the trunk from the wagon and heard one say, "Look out, Fuller, look out." The police have captured Fuller, who is an ex-convict, but although admitting the theft will not disclose who his pals were or where the trunk is.

The Tweed Case in Court.

A motion was made by the district attorney in the court of oyer and terminer today to forfeit the recognizances of William M. Tweed in various indictments found against him for conspiracy and forgery. Mr. Dudley Field represented Mr. Charles Devlin, one of the bailmen, and when the latter was called on to produce Tweed, his counsel handed in an affidavit showing the cause why recognizance should not be forfeited, setting forth that the plaintiffs themselves made it impossible for the bondsmen to produce the defendant, and after the recognizances were entered into the plaintiffs took defendant out of the bondsmen's hands, and on civil suits turned him over to the sheriff; that claim on Mr. Devlin was thus unfounded and should fail. The district attorney argued that it was the duty of the court to order a forfeiture, and Mr. Field's points could be argued at the general term, and also that bonds were merely suspended by the imprisonment of Tweed on civil suits. The court reserved its decision until Monday.

Wheeler H. Peckham moved today in the supreme court circuit before Judge Van Vorst that the $6,000,000 suit against Tweed be set down for the 27th of December, as he said Gov. Tilden who was a witness in the case, could only attend on that date. Mr. David Dudley Field opposed the motion as it would occur among the holidays and long challenges of objections would have to be argued. Decision was reserved.

Arrest of a Female Criminal.

A women fiend named Mary Banker has been arrested, she having inveigled a young girl of fifteen into a house where she had kept her locked into a room. The poor girl who is of a most respectable family, had torn her hands dreadfully in trying to escape, and in fighting against her horrible persecuters. She had been locked there, at 53 Amity Street, nearly four days, when the neighbors reported to the officers, that they heard screams and continued crying. The girl was restored to her distracted parents, and the beast, Mrs. Banker to prison.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Democratic Caucus

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.

today, developed the fears of the leaders of that party. No questions of policy were brought up for discussion; in fact, the chief object of the caucus was to avoid the presentation of any such questions until the leaders of the party could have time to deliberate upon each one, and pass judgment upon the propriety of allowing it to be considered.

A Humane Enactment.

Senator Frelinghuysen's bill relating to the transportation of animals, prohibits their continuous confinement beyond the period of twenty eight hours, unless storms or other accidental causes prevent their being unloaded for rest, water and feeding, and when so unloaded it must be for at least five hours.

"Nepotism" in the House.

The clerk of the House has appointed his uncle, Green Adams, of Kentucky, chief clerk in the place of Clinton Lloyd. Mr. Adams was a member of the Thirty sixth Congress, and afterwards sixth auditor of the Treasury. The salary is $3000.

The Democratic Members only Under Guardianship.

After about two hours debate, thirteen members were agreed upon as a sort of vigilance committee to watch the Democratic side, and curb all indications of a tendency toward indiscretions, and to supervise all bills from the Democratic side, to furnish good advice to young, hot headed and unsophisticated Americans. This committee is to be named by Mr. Lamar, as that, in fact, the Democracy today has given a Southern Confederate power to shape the whole legislation of the party for this session. There is some dissatisfaction among the Northern Democrats at the situation, but they all agree that unless their side is very closely watched there will be great trouble.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WRITING PAPER.

Action of the Manufacturers.

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 13.

A committee from the manufacturers of writing paper met in this city today, and report that the manufacturers throughout the country, generally, have come into the agreement to shut down from Wednesday to January 17th, and that they already see the good effect of the movement. Prices have been raised a little and some reflections have been made in the wages of the help, with the prospect of more to be made gradually, however.

ICE DOWN EAST.

Portion of a Bridge on the Damariscotta River Carried Away by a Floe.

DAMARISCOTTA, Me., Dec. 13.

A floe of fifteen acres of floating ice struck the toll bridge at Sheepscott Village, this noon, carrying away about one-third of it.

LAND SWINDLING.

Extensive Operations on Tracts in Missouri. Ramifications in Atlantic States and in England.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13.

A stupendous land swindle has just been unearthed in southeastern Missouri. It appears that deeds to lands in northern Arkansas and southeastern Missouri have been forged for some years past, and that agencies for this work were established in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York and Manchester. It is estimated deeds to over twelve million acres of land have been forged and disposed of, the valuation being twenty five or thirty million dollars. The land operated upon is owned by non-residents and as the records were mostly destroyed during the civil war, the ring had every facility to carry out the enormous swindle, and deeds have been sold all over the United States and England. The grand jury of Shannon county, Missouri, have indicted Dr. Thomas K. Harmon, David S. Bingham and James L. Lawton, for complicity. Lawton seems to have been the executive man and operated extensively in England.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1875.

FIRE ALARM REGULATIONS.

To send out an alarm.

Any person who discovers a fire is requested to immediately give the alarm by crying fire, and, going to the box nearest the fire, to send out a general alarm by procuring the key, unlocking the box, and firmly putting the hook down, once only, then closing the door, being careful to see that it is locked, and returning the key.

The person sending out an alarm from a box is requested to remain near said box until the first engine arrives, to direct the firemen to the exact locality of the fire.

Cautions.

Never pull a box if the small gong inside is striking or the machinery of the box is heard running.

Do not pull a box for a fire seen at a distance, or unless you are aware of the locality of a fire.

Key holders are requested not to allow their keys to be taken except by responsible parties.

Bell Ringers.

Bell ringers are engaged to ring the following church bells in connection with the telegraph alarm :—

The First and North Baptist, United Congregational and Emmanuel with instructions to ring their respective bells for five minutes immediately after the telegraphic alarm has completed its four rounds and then to repeat eight times the number of the box from which the alarm is sent.

Recall.

Nine blows upon the telegraphic alarm bells will indicate that the fire is out and that the services of the department are not required.

Testing the Apparatus.

One stroke on the bells by the telegraphic alarm will simply findicate that the apparatus is in good order.

LOCATION OF BOXES AND KEYS.

THE EARLIER UNIFORM AT CAMBRIDGE.—A correspondent from Washington, D. C., who may send us other similar favors, forwards the following, which will be new to many of our readers as it was to ourselves. It is law 9, chapter 5 of the laws of Harvard College, as amended in 1801: "All the undergraduates shall be clothed in coats of blue gray, or of dark blue, or of black. And no student shall appear within the limits of the college or town of Cambridge in any coat of any other color, unless he shall have on a night gown, or, in stormy or cold weather, an outside garment over a coat. Nor shall a surtout, or an outside garment of any other color than blue gray or dark blue, or black be substituted for the uniform coat. But the students are permitted to wear black gowns, in which they may appear on all public occasions. They shall not wear gold or silver lace, cord or edging upon their hats, waistcoats, or any parts of their clothing. And whosoever shall violate any of these regulations shall be fined a sum not less than eighty cents, nor more than $1.60 for each offence; and if any one persist in such violation, he shall be subject to higher censures."

TWINS WITH ASSOCIATION OF IDEAS.—In illustration of the extremely close resemblance between certain twins is the similarity in the association of their ideas. No less than eleven out of thirty five cases testify to this. They make the same remarks on the same occasion, begin singing the same song at the same moment, and so on; or one would commence a sentence and the other would finish it. An observant friend graphically described to me the effect produced upon her by two such twins whom she met casually. She said, "Their teeth grew alike, they spoke alike and together, and said the same thing, and seemed just like one person." One of the most curious anecdotes that I have received concerning this similarity of ideas was that one twin, A, who happened to be at a town in Scotland, bought a set of champagne glasses, which caught his attention, as a surprise for his brother B, while, at the same time, B, being in England, bought a similar set of precisely the same pattern as a surprise for A. Other anecdotes of a like kind have reached me about these twins.—[Fraser's Magazine.

MAKING BAD WORSE.—A man and his wife, who had been married ten years, disagreed and determined to separate. The terms of separation were to be decided by the justice of the arrondissement in which they lived. They were Parisians.

"Have you any children?" said the judge.

"Yes, Monsieur."

"How many?"

"Three; two boys and a girl, and it is with them lies our difficulty. Madame wishes to have two of them; so do I."

"Have you agreed to abide by my decision?"

"We have," said both of them.

"Very well, my friends; I condemn you to have another child, so that you may each have two. When you have obtained that you may return to me."

The matter was then adjourned for the time being. Two years afterward the worthy magistrate, who in the meanwhile had heard nothing of the husband or wife, met the former.

"Ah," said he: "how about the separation?"

"Still impossible, Monsieur, instead of four children we now have five."

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents. They may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
